Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-7, 11, and 13-16, drawn to animation display apparatus, classified in class 345, subclass 474.
 - II. Claims 17-³¹~~18~~, drawn to a sticker printing apparatus and method, classified in class 700, subclass 233.
 - III. Claims 8-10, and 12, drawn to a game device, classified in class 463, subclass 1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, III and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are (I) a animation display device which displays animation, (III) and a coin operated game machine are completely different from (II) a sticker printing apparatus and method which prints stickers.

Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the coin operated game machine does not require the specifics of the animation display device it merely has to have a display device. The subcombination has separate utility such the animation display device could be used for video animation such as making a movie or the like and does not need to be used in a coin operated video game.
